Mrs. Fred Vnrath,

No. 228 Territorial Street, Benton Harbor, Mich.

"I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

hers, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the woman in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity.

MOTHERHOOD is the noblest duty and highest privilege women can achieve or aspire to. Without this privilege women do not get all there is in life—too often they go through the world discontented, wrapped up in their own selfish cares and troubles. How different is the happy mother, watching her children grow into manhood and womanhood. A mother lives as many lives as she has children—their joys and sorrows are

ANOTHER CLOUDBURST

Terrible Calamity Occurs in Vicinity of Greensburg, Pa.

ABOUT FIFTY DROWN

Pleasure Seekers Victims of a Vast Volume of Water That Rushed Down Upon Them Without Any Warning.

Pittsburg, July 6.—A telephone message from Jeanette says from fifty to seventy-five men, women and children perished by the cloudburst at Oakford Park Sunday. The majority were drowned or their lives were beaten out against the rocks in Brush creek, but a number were electrocuted.

At least 800 persons were at the park seeking relief from the heat. When the storm burst, the greater number sought the hillside, preferring the shelter of the forest trees to the park buildings, because they did not care to be below the level of the dam and but little above the level of Brush creek. When the dam broke a solid wall of water twenty feet high rushed down and completely filled narrow ravine with its car tracks, car barn and restaurant. In front of the car barn stood a car containing from fifty to seventy passengers, many seeking to return to Jeanette, others using it as a temporary shelter.

With the immense body of water behind it, the crest of the flood bore down with irresistible force. It swept down the narrow ravine, it carried with it in its embrace, the loaded street car and the crowded restaurant.

The flood kept on down Brush creek to about 300 yards east of Jeanette. Here the Pennsylvania railroad embankment, which is high at this point, checked the torrent, and a lake covering over twenty acres of ground has been formed. It is here, as the water swirled and eddied, that it is expected the number of bodies of the victims will be found. It will be several days before the flood subsides sufficiently to allow a satisfactory exploration of this lake. There was no staying the flood. The torrent coursed down through Jeanette and flooded the south end of the town. No lives were lost here, however, although many had narrow escapes. There were a great number of heroic rescues. Here Brush creek joined its forces with Brush creek, and together they continued on their progress of destruction. Penn. a town but a short distance from Jeanette, was the next victim. The water there was twenty feet deep.

Great destruction of property resulted at Manor and Larmer, and Greensburg suffered still more severely. The greater part of Greensburg was under water, but no loss of life is reported. The total loss by the flood will reach $800,000.

RACE RIOT.

Murder of a Patrolman Incenses Citizens at Evansville, Ind.

Evansville, Ind., July 6.—This city is in the hands of a mob. Troops were ordered out by the governor to protect the jail, which was surrounded by 2000 men. Two negroes have been killed in the race riot, which is rampant.

The crowd around the jail, incensed at the murder of a patrolman by a negro, shouted death to all negroes. The negroes have been secretly removed to Vincennes, but the mob refuses to believe it and is trying to tear down the jail. Stone masons in the mob are chiselling out the bars of the windows and a battering ram is being used. A boy, white, named Logan, has been shot by a negro. A young negro woman has been killed and several negroes have been seriously injured. A company of negroes, armed with Winchester, marched through the streets threatening to kill white people. They broke into a hardware store and secured all the arms and ammunition. Three business men were fired on.

The steel bars of the jail windows could not withstand the rain of blows from the battering rams of the mob. The crowd swarmed in the jail and began a search for the murderer. Police Capt. Brenneck tried to check upon them. When he appeared at the window holding the nozzle a rain of bullets was sent through the window. The captain retreated and no further attempt was made to keep the mob out.

A mob of 200 white men, heavily armed, marched through the streets of the city where negroes would likely be found.

HOGG AND SENATE.

Former Governor Says That He Has Held a Higher Position.

New Orleans, July 6.—In an interview here former Governor Hogg said he had never desired to be a United States senator. "As governor of Texas I filled a higher position," he said. When asked the direct question as to whether or not he was a senatorial candidate, his answer was that he did not care to talk about it.

Quick Rise of Guadalupe.

Victoria, Tex., July 6.—The quickest rise and the greatest and most disastrous flood of the Guadalupe river since the flood of 1869 is now on at Victoria and vicinity, eclipsing the high water records of 1900 and last March.

PASSING OF POPE.

Last Sacrament Solemnly Administered to the Dying Pontiff.

Rome, July 6, 3 a. m.—"God's will be done. Who would have believed it, when, ten days ago, I was presiding over a public consistory," feebly murmured Pope Leo, as he felt himself Sunday night sinking into a sleep which lasted about three hours until excruciating pains brought the dying pontiff back to consciousness. He groaned and complained of pains on both sides of the thorax. Tenderly Dr. Lappin, assisted by Pope Leo's valet, Piacenza, and the physician's second assistant, De Castro, lifted the frail form, and changing the position, succeeded in giving the patient some relief.

At 5:10 o'clock Sunday afternoon the pope began sinking fast, and he was prepared for his last communion. It was administered during the night and participated in by all the cardinals at Rome.

The solemn, yet gorgeous, ceremony of administering the last sacrament took place at the bedside of Pope Leo. The central figure was the dying pontiff, whose long life's journey is nearly over, calmly preparing to enter the dark valley. His pale and emaciated face, almost as white as the pillows on which it rested, showed little sign of life except the keen, glittering eyes, always his most striking feature.

Around the bed were grouped the noble guards in their glittering uniforms, the Knights of the Cloak and Sword. In their picturesque medieval costume of black with white ruffs, twenty-five cardinals, all the members of the sacred college who were present in Rome, stately and venerable figures in their sweeping crimson robes, the whole forming a scene of rich, yet subdued, coloring, a fit subject for the pencil of a rembrandt. The whole of what is called the pontifical family, headed by Mgr. Rampolla, and including all the private chamberlains were there. Nearest to the bed stood the imposing, tall figure of Cardinal Vannutelli with the pope's confessor, to hear the last confession of the departing pontiff. Then the priest appeared, bearing the viaticum to give the last communion, and another the extreme unction. Pope Leo feebly recited the confession of faith as formulated by the council of Trent, and finally the words of absolution, and the formulas of indulgence in articulo mortis were solemnly pronounced by Cardinal Vannutelli. The heads of the great religious orders who were present granted the pope the special indulgences which they have the privilege of conferring. Then came the touching prayers for a passing soul and part of the gospel, the Lord's passion. As the last words died away all fell on their knees. The pontiff raised his almost transparent fingers with a feeble effort, pronounced in scarcely audible words his benediction on the sacred college and on all present, then sank back on the pillows. There was scarcely a tearful eye in the whole assemblage. The sobs of the pope's relatives were plainly heard. Deep silence fell, only broken now and again by a murmur of prayer or a pious ejaculation.

In the portion of the loggia of Raphael, were the families of Count Riccardo Pecci and Count Moroni, the pope's nephews.

Severe Pains in His Chest.

Rome, July 6, 6:56 a. m.—The pope had three hours' sleep, but woke with severe pains in his chest. Dr. Lappin gave him relief by changing his position.

SLAIN BY SON.

City Secretary Moore of Dallas Meets a Tragic Death.

Dallas, July 6.—While in an irresponsible condition City Secretary I. A. Moore, was shot and almost instantly killed Sunday night at the family residence by his son Ernest, about twenty-two years of age. About 7 o'clock Mr. Moore, while not in responsible state, attacked his second son, Carl, nineteen years old, and began choking him.

Attracted by the screams of his mother, Ernest, ran into the dining room and endeavored to prevent his father injuring his brother, and was himself attacked.

He retreated into the front hallway, and as his father attacked him, fired four shots, the fatal bullet striking in the upper chest and severing the large artery from the heart.

Mr. Moore fell backward with his head across the threshold of the dining room and died from internal hemorrhage before medical attention could be summoned.

Mr. Moore was fifty-two years old, has been a resident of Dallas county over forty years. Before becoming city secretary he was for some years a deputy sheriff and district clerk and had a host of friends.

IN FEMALE GARB.

Thus Arrayed Negro Taken to the San Antonio Jail.

San Antonio, Tex., July 6.—Nat Kimball, a negro, charged with the murder of Mrs. Emil Kronie, near New Braunfels, was captured by Deputy Sheriff Stokes of Guadalupe county Saturday morning, and Sunday morning was brought to San Antonio under a heavy guard of sheriff's officers and the New Braunfels military company. In order that suspicion as to who the negro was, and in order to avoid any effort at lynching him en route, the negro was clothed in female attire and reached here in that garb.

The negro confessed, and then reconsidered.

BRYAN, TEXAS, JULY 7, 1903

Roosevelt threatens to come to Texas and write a history of the state. Then an astonished world will learn about Texas.

Hon. G. B. Griggs of Houston, before the state text book board, last Wednesday, took the position that the text books for Texas schools should be written by Texas authors and manufactured in Texas, of Texas materials. It is an entirely feasible suggestion. Over a half million dollars a year would thus be spent in Texas, that would otherwise be sent away, and this would be about the least of the benefits. The stimulus to home talent, state spirit and pride, and to Texas manufactures would be worth more than can be estimated in figures, if the plan prevailed.

A new York judge sent a labor leader to prison, and made a solemn talk in which he said: "Every man has a right to sell his labor for what he pleases, and should not be interfered with in so doing." Sounds like an axiom, yet judges and whole political parties in this country have been known in the past to talk a good deal about "higher law." There are many who do not believe a laborer has a moral right to underbid another man and take his job, under some circumstances. And moral law has frequently taken precedence of statutory law, and will yet do so again on this very question.

The Texas railway commission entered an order some time since requiring the Aransas Pass railway to reduce its capital stock from $5,000,000 to $1,000,000, and to do it within sixty days. There were also some drastic orders about canceling its bonds. Now the commission unexpectedly "modifies" its orders, lets the bonds stand and lets its stock stand for an indefinite length of time. If the present commissioners make a few more "breaks" like this and that other bluff they made some time since at the S. P., they will arouse suspicion either as to their ability to form a sound policy or their integrity, one or the other.

Mr. J. C. Nagle of College Weds in South Carolina.

Married, in Union, South Carolina, at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. D. H. Wallace, on Wednesday, July 1, 1903, by Rev. A. G. Wardlaw, Mr. James C. Nagle of the A. and M. College of Texas, to Mrs. Emily St. P. Davis of Greenville, S. C. No cards.

Prof. Nagle is a graduate of the University of Texas, and has for years held the responsible position of head of the civil engineering department of the A. and M. college, and has attracted the favorable notice of the United States government by his irrigation work. His standing in the engineering profession is too well known to require further mention at our hands.

Mrs. Nagle is a member of one of the leading families of South Carolina, and is well and favorably known in Bryan and at College Station, where her many womanly graces have endeared her to all who know her.

Mr. and Mrs. Nagle are now at Esmeralda Inn, N. C., where they will spend their honeymoon.

BRAZOS SINGING CONVENTION.

Meeting at Kurten Was a Great Occasion—Immense Crowd—Fine Music—Barbecue.

The second and last day's meeting of the Brazos County Singing Convention at Kurten was a great occasion and attracted a crowd, variously estimated from fifteen hundred to two thousand people, from all parts of Brazos county and many from adjoining counties. The music supplied by the great number of trained voices was inspiring and beautiful, and a magnificent barbecue dinner was served, there being an abundance for all and to spare. The heat and the rain brought some discomfort and the roads were bad in places, but all these disadvantages were compensated by the pleasures of the day and the open-handed hospitality of the people of the Kurten community.

The annual address, by Mr. Robert Smith of Reliance, was in keeping with the occasion and well received. The excellent manner in which the committees did the work assigned them facilitated the carrying out of the program and the efficient officers kept things moving and never allowed the interest to lag.

In testimony of the high appreciation in which his services for several years past are held, Mr. I. M. Cook was again elected president, while Mr. Roy Zimmerman of Cottonwood was selected for secretary and treasurer. The convention meets next year with the Cottonwood choir.

Bryan Firm to Open in Corsicana.

Elsewhere in the Eagle will be found the dissolution notice of Wilson & Jenkins. Mr. E. J. Jenkins, having purchased the interest of Mr. Sam B. Wilson, will continue the business at the same stand. This reputable house has long enjoyed a splendid patronage, and that it will continue to do so under the direction of Mr. Jenkins no one familiar with his business and ability will doubt. Mr. Wilson retires from the drug business to return to his first love, the dry goods business. He and Mr. Tyler Haswell have purchased the handsome and popular dry goods, or rather exclusive ladies goods establishment of Brennan & Kerr, the prettiest and most up-to-date store in Corsicana. Mr. Wilson will go to Corsicana to take the management of the business, and Mr. Haswell will remain here. The new store occupies a handsome corner building 75x127 feet with plate glass and iron front, steel ceiling, and all modern improvements. Mr. Wilson's taste and experience in dry goods and Mr. Haswell's well-known business ability leave no doubt as to their success. While regretting the departure of Mr. Wilson, whom the Corsicana people will find to be a hustler and a gentleman, we extend congratulations to the new firm.

An immense crowd filled the gospel tent Sunday night to hear Rev.
J. L. Meads who spoke upon the story of David and Jonathan and the decline of such strong and lasting friendships. His discourse was full of beauty and interest and was a strong plea for sincerity and naturality and against caste distinctions and empty religious professions.
The music was a splendid feature of the service, notably the vocal duet
by Rev. and Mrs. Jewell Howard.
Good services were held yesterday and last night. The meeting will continue throughout the week, but probably not longer. Services at 10
a. m., and 8:30 p. m.

DEVASTATED VALLEY.

Brush Creek Section Looked Desolate Monday Morning.

POWER OF WATERS.

This Was Plainly Apparent in Every Direction, Showing a Property Damage of Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Jeanette, Pa., July 6.—Dawn broke on a scene of devastation and ruin along Brush creek valley, from the site of the breaking of the dam at Oakford to Wilmerding, taking in the townships of Jeanette, Penn. Latimer, Greensburg, Irwin, Burrell and Manor. The awful power of the rushing waters, following the breaking of the dam, is apparent on all sides. Damage to property is not less than $700,000, while the number of lives suddenly blotted out is still uncertain, estimates running all the way from 50 to 150. Almost with the first streak of daylight a bureau was opened here, where the names of identified dead recovered and missing are registered, together with a description of bodies recovered but not identified. The revised list of the dead and missing so far as known is as follows, but it may be days before the extent of the disaster will be determined.

Dead: Miss Gertrude Keefe, aged twenty-four years, Jeanette, body recovered; Miss Kate Keefe, her sister, body recovered; John Fleming, stable boy at old fair grounds, Greensburg; George Whiteman, West Jeanette; Miss Lella Baker, West Jeanette; John McGurkey, aged forty, West Jeanette; George Williams, aged thirty-five years, Jeanette; Alex Victor, Jeanette; Mrs. Nigges and four children, West Jeanette; unknown woman, found at Manor; unknown child, found at Manor; unknown man, found at Penn; Edward Smith, aged ten years, a negro boy, West Jeanette; daughter of Fred Davis, aged thirteen years, West Jeanette; Mrs. Schrader, seventy years; Mrs. Lucy Krum, who was with Miss Keefe at Jeanette. Missing: John and Lawrence O'Neil, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Barney O'Neil; Curtis Moore, Jeanette; Samuel Vogel, Jeanette; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fink, Jeanette; Ed O'Brien, Greensburg; Councilman John C. Light and family, Greensburg; two Silk sisters, West Jeanette; Alfred Zopp, nine years, West Jeanette; May Bird, Manor hotel, Jeanette.

Several persons are reported missing from homes along the stream and many anxious parents, almost frantic with fear, traversed the streams all Sunday night searching for lost children.

Stories of thrilling rescues are heard on all sides and many acts of bravery are reported, the heroes being persons who risked their lives to save others. One man whose name could not be learned was seen by several persons to make a hard effort to rescue a woman, presumably his wife. The man was in apparently a safe position among some saplings. In his struggles to get the woman he lost his hold and both were swept away with the torrent and probably lost.

Twenty Bodies Recovered.

Jeanette, Pa., July 6.—An estimate places the death list at seventy-five by cloudburst at Oakford park. Twenty bodies have been recovered.

SPIRITED AWAY.

Negro Who Caused Trouble at Evansville Taken to Vincennes.

Evansville, Ind., July 6.—Sunday night's riot was the immediate outcome of the shooting of Policeman Massey Friday night by Lee Brown, a negro. Brown and another negro had engaged in a quarrel and Brown had sworn to kill his antagonist. He ran toward his home to secure a revolver and Patrolman Massey hearing of the trouble lay in wait for Brown. As the negro came back armed, hunting his enemy, Massey stepped from a doorway and laid his hand on his shoulder. Brown turned quickly, a revolver in his hand, and shot the policeman in the abdomen. The officer as he lay on the sidewalk fired at Brown and then the two fired at each other as they lay on the pavement, emptying their revolvers. Excitement has been intense and after the arrest of Brown the jail was guarded night and day. That night a lynching was feared and the mob that surrounded the jail during the night was held at bay only by the weapons of dozens of deputies. Sunday an outbreak was feared and the negro was secretly removed from the jail and taken to Vincennes, where he now lies at the point of death from his wounds.

Patrolman Massey died late Sunday night from his wounds. It took twenty-five policemen to prevent the lynching at the jail Saturday night, but their bravery was not sufficient to avert the bitter race war. Much damage was done to numerous stores and especially hardware houses, many of which were entered and robbed of guns and ammunition. Thousands of shots were fired during the night, but so far as learned no one was killed, although numbers of people are said to have been wounded. Several negroes were caught by mobs and almost beaten to death before the police rescued them. Seven thousand men crowded the street before the jail and finally obtained an entrance through the fortified gates to the yard, where they began to batter the windows. Efforts to prevent this were futile and the crowd held full sway, the police being occupied with holding sightseers from invading the front part of the building and ransacking the sheriff's residence. After the mob was thoroughly satisfied that Lee Brown was not in the building they separated into squads of forty or fifty and paraded down the streets until daylight, shooting promiscuously and visiting the negro quarters.

Accorded a Great Reception.

London, July 6.—On arriving at the Victoria station President Loubet was accorded a great reception.

HEARTY RECEPTION.

French President Recipient of a Great Greeting at Seacoast City.

Boulogne, Sur Mer, July 6.—President Loubet arrived here and was accorded a hearty reception by the assembled crowds. He proceeded immediately to the dock in order to attend the ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the new basin. The town is overflowing with sightseers and the route of the presidential party from the suburbs to the docks was lavishly decorated with Venetian masts, streamers and triumphal arches. Fishing nets as representatives of the chief industry of Boulogne were also prominent features of embellishing. The fishing industry was further represented in the triumphal arch, it being entirely composed of fish barrels, life belts and like articles.

Such a display of British union jacks has seldom been seen in France, while American, Russian and other flags were numerous. Troops lined the entire route and immense crowds throughout gave M. Loubet a memorable reception. On reaching the tastefully decorated presidential stand M. Loubet carried out the ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the new basin.

AT DOVER.

Most imposing Naval Display Ever Seen Off That English City.

Dover, July 6.—Immense crowds of people lined the sea front, which presented a gala appearance, the decorations being on a scale far in excess of anything previously attempted. As soon as the Guichen was sighted the Sheerness, one of the flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers, steamed out to meet her and escorted the French cruiser through a double line of British battleships and cruisers extending two and a half miles and forming the most imposing naval display ever seen off Dover. All the vessels were dressed from stem to stern and crews manned the ship and mingled their cheers with the roar of guns, firing of salutes and strains of "Marseillaise" from naval bands. Each ship gave the president a salute of guns as the Guichen passed and the band of each vessel in turn took up the "Marseillaise." The Guichen anchored off Dover and exchanged salutes with Dover castle. Admirals and captains of the British fleet immediately repaired on board the French cruiser and paid official visits to President Loubet.

TOOK NOURISHMENT.

It Was Administered to Pope Leo at Intervals on Monday Afternoon.

Rome, July 6.—As the pope objected to having oxygen inhaling instruments continually under his nostrils Dr. Laponi arranged to impregnate the whole atmosphere of the room with oxygen. "That is much better," said the pontiff. "Before I felt as though I had lost my liberty." Although Dr. Laponi continually recommends the patient not to speak and pay no attention to what is passing outside, the pope gently refuses to abandon participation in what is going on. He said, smiling, to Dr. Laponi: "I know you say this out of your affection for me, but either my last day is rapidly approaching, in which case I must employ all the time which is left me so far as I can, or else I shall recover again, postponing the end. If this is the will of the Almighty nothing can change it." The pope wished his arm chair to be carried near his writing table and then to a window overlooking the piazza of St. Peter. Noticing many people in carriages, the pope said: "The piazza looks as it does when I am able to perform some public function." Dr. Laponi's chief task now is maintaining the pope's strength. Some improvement was indicated by the fact of the patient being more willing to take nourishment, which was administered at short intervals and consisted chiefly of Bordeaux champagne, raw eggs and broth.

The only persons allowed in the pope's bedroom besides the doctors and attendants were Cardinal Rampolla, Mgr. Bisleti, master of the pontifical chambers, and Brigadier General Count Camilla Pecci of the noble guard, a nephew of the pope. The pope conversed a long time with Count Pecci, even rising and walking about the room for a few minutes, leaning on his arm. The pontiff on this occasion remarked: "Now I am ready to depart, having settled all my affairs. I feel I have done all in my power for the good of the church and of humanity."

Berlin, July 6.—All Rome dispatches published here represent the pope's conditions as hopeless. Newspapers of this city are issuing extras containing the latest telegrams on the subject of the pontiff's health.

Fit of Coughing.

Rome, July 6.—A bit of coughing disturbed the pope's sleep. Coughing might benefit him by relieving his lungs, said the physician. In his weak state, however, it was very trying and exhausting.

Wished to Walk.

Rome, July 6.—During his waking hours the pope insisted on walking around at intervals, saying that weakness was the worst part of his illness, against which the best remedy is activity.

EXCITING TIME.

Lynching Was Narrowly Averted at Madisonville, Ky.

Madisonville, Ky., July 6.—There is great excitement here over the murder of Jeff Burton at the barbecue at Earlington, Ky., Saturday afternoon by Marshal J. B. Linde. Until 9 o'clock last night the streets were crowded with men condemning the affair, when all of a sudden the streets were deserted and the town appeared desolate.

This caused officers to suspect something was going on and hurriedly took Lindle from the jail here and slipped him out in a buggy to Hanson, Ky., where he was put on the midnight train and carried to jail at Henderson. Perhaps had he been left here Saturday night a lynching would have occurred.

ADHERES TO POSITION.

Rev. Dr. Briggs Again Emphatically Declares There Is No Hell.

Austin, July 6.—Another sensational sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. R. J. Briggs, pastor of the Austin Methodist church, in which he declared most emphatically there was no such thing as hell. He quoted freely from the Old Testament to sustain his position. This position created quite a stir among his congregation.

Mammoth Loaf of Bread.

St. Louis, July 6.—A mammoth loaf of bread, 600 times the size of the regular 5-cent loaf, and in the making of which an entire barrel of flour will be used, will be seen in Mississippi exhibit at the World's fair. Harry Mansfield of Moss Point will be the creator, and has ordered the construction of an especial bake oven, designed by himself, for the baking of this giant loaf.

Plunged to His Death.

Austin, July 6.—An aged and blind Mexican named Francisco Avelas accidentally walked off a cliff in the northern part of the city and plunged forty feet to his death. He alighted on his head and fractured it terribly. It took four men to secure the body.

Exchanged Salutes.

Dover, July 6.—The United States European squadron arrived off Dover exchanged salutes with the castle.

Had to Be Beached.

Manila, July 6.—The United States transport Sumner, having on board the Fourth infantry, struck an uncharted reef and her forward hold filled rapidly, necessitating the vessel being beached.

Fear of Trouble Vanished.

New York, July 6.—It is now assured, says a Herald dispatch from Lima, Peru, that the change of administration will be accomplished without disturbances. All fear of trouble has disappeared.

Arrested in Honduras.

New York, July 6.—Joseph von Tenney of Memphis, Tenn., has been arrested at Belize, Honduras, according to a Herald dispatch from Puerto Barrios, Guatemala. The reason is not stated.
